From Our Pastor's Desk...

One of the books that I have been reading lately is called Practicing Peace in Times of War, by the Buddhist nun Pema Chodron. She shares this story about Jarvis Masters, a prisoner on death row.

Jarvis has his TV on in his cell but he doesn't have the sound on because he's using the light of the TV to read. And every once in a while, he looks up at the screen, then yells to people down the cell block to ask what's happening.

The first time, someone yells back, It's the Ku Klux Klan, Jarvis, and they're all yelling and complaining about how it's the blacks and the Jews who are responsible for all these problems. About half an hour later, he yells again, Hey, what's happening? And a voice calls back, That's the Greenpeace folks. They're demonstrating about the fact that the rivers are being polluted and the trees are being cut down and the animals are being hurt and our Earth is being destroyed. Some time later, he calls out again, Now what's going on? And someone says, Oh, Jarvis, that's the US Senate and that guy who's up there now talking, he's blaming the other guys, on the other side, the other political party, for all the financial difficulty this country's in.

Jarvis starts laughing and he calls down, I've learned something here tonight. Sometimes they're wearing Klan outfits, sometimes they're wearing Greenpeace outfits, sometimes they're wearing suits and ties, but they all have the same angry faces.

That story has been rattling around in my soul, and I imagine that it will continue to work in my spirit. It points to a profound paradox, I think.

On the one hand, there is a HUGE amount of anger in our culture - people pointing fingers and blaming others for all the ways our world and our lives fall short of perfection. That's true in politics, in the church, in business, and in family life. It tears our communities apart, it turns neighbors into enemies, and it diminishes our ability to work together toward meaningful solutions.

On the other hand, we seem to have lost that prophetic, biblical anger that helps us to name injustice and to stand against it with courage and strength and dignity. We OUGHT to be angry that the earth is in danger, that women and children are abused, that racism and poverty diminish the future of all our children, that war destroys both body and soul..... We OUGHT to be angry.

But that anger ought to challenge us to speak the truth and work for a better world - not to shout our anger and point fingers of blame. There are lots of angry faces in the world, lots of ways that violence triumphs over peace. May each of us bring a witness of prophetic peace in a world filled with anger.

Weather and More!

Cancelling worship on Sunday, February 25th may have been a first for Edwards! As ice and snow, and more snow moved through the QCA over the weekend it seemed wise for everyone to stay home. We were very concerned that our parking lot would be a skating rink!

Decisions to cancel are never made easily or by one person. The Moderator, the chair of Trustees, the Pastor and the Staff are all involved in the decision to hold worship or call it off. Every effort is made to notify the TV stations, to call people who have a leadership role in worship, and to change the message on the answering machine. If you are unsure, call Katherine or one of the lay leaders at home! Hopefully, the weather will improve - SOON - and we won't have to worry about all that!

Contemporary Worship

Join us at 5:30 every Sunday evening for an hour of singing, prayer, scripture and reflection. This is a small, coffee-house style worship service with an emphasis on fellowship and community care. It is a wonderful way to leave behind the stresses of the week-end and begin the week with God in your heart!

Social Justice

People are on the move! Sixty people have now signed on to make a commitment to move their bodies into healthier living. Each participant is Walking Across America by exercising 50 hours over the next 10 weeks. Want to join? Stop by Baxter Hall any Sunday after church, pick a walking route and start moving! Our goal is not to see who gets to the East Coast first; our goal is to encourage everyone to bring more movement into their lives and, by example, inspire others to do the same!

Special Offering- O.G.H.S.

One Great Hour of Sharing (O.G.H.S.) is the first of four special offerings conducted by the UCC each year. OGHS serves persons with needs resulting from natural disasters and political or economic crises. This offering supports programs of sustainable development, emergency relief, disaster response, social service, and refugee resettlement. It works by channeling resources for the self-empowerment of communities and individuals victimized by hunger, poverty, and injustice. It is also an ecumenical effort, one shared with eight Christian denominations and Church World Service. We also coordinate with our world wide mission partners and Church World Service so that, together, appropriate levels of aid are provided in more than 80 countries around the world, including our own, thus avoiding the possibility of duplicating our services. In other words, working smarter, and getting the most bang for our bucks.

The date for Edwards to observe OGHS is March 18. An envelope is included with this newsletter for your convenience.

CPR/AED Training

The Automated External Defibrillator should arrive around the end of March. Enough money was raised to put some aside for upkeep of the AED and to pay for training.

Training will be offered at Edwards on the following dates. If there is enough interest we could also add a class during the day on Friday. These are suggested times, the actual times depend on whether you are currently certified in CPR and how many are in each class. Classes will be limited to 15 people.

Friday, March 30 $12.00 per person
5-9:30 pm Adult CPR/AED

Saturday, March 31, $15.00 per person
8-2:30 CPR/AED Adult / Child and Infant CPR
2:30-5 First-Aid $5.00 (as an add on class)

Sunday, April 1 (Palm Sunday) $12.00
Noon-4:30 Adult CPR/AED
